POKER

A classic come back in fashion – Texas Hold'em Poker

It is like on the stock market. Psychology plays a big part in the game. The chances to win or lose are not only dependent on the number of players or on your cards but also how you play. Tactical playing is key to winning; your feelings, your experience and your desire to bluff ...

What do you play with?

Players do not play with cash but with chips which they can exchange at the cash desk or the gaming table. There is a minimum and a maximum stake that may vary depending on the table.

How to play correctly

You can play poker together with up to nine players to win the collective stake (pot). The game is supervised by the dealer who also leads the game and decides whose cards win. By the way, you can also win without holding the best cards, if the other player give up before the end (Fold).

The dealer button, which is passed on in a clockwise direction, points out the dealer at each table.

1st round

The two players sitting left of the dealer place the small blind and the big blind. Then each player receives two cards, face down (hole cards). Being the first player after the big blind you can either go along, making at least the big blind bet (call), raise the bet or quit (fold).

All players to follow have the same options.

If it is your turn as a small blind player, you must bet the difference to meet the highest stake in order to stay in the game.

The big blind player is also able to raise the bet again. All players to follow must go along with any raising of the bet in order to stay in the game.

2nd round

After the first round of betting the dealer places three cards, face up, in the middle of the table (flop). Put together a possible hand in your head, made up of these three cards and your two hole cards.

This is followed by a further round of betting.

3rd round

After the dealer has placed another card face up in the middle of the table (turn), put together the best hand (five cards) in your head and – if you wish to do so – take part in the next round of betting.

4th round

Before the final round of betting the dealer places the last card, face up, on the table (river). In the end your best hand is made up of the five community cards and your two hole cards.

The Bet Line:

All bets moved across this line are binding. All cards moved across this line are deemed as “folded”.
